To Whom It May Concern,

I am honored to write this letter of recommendation for Suhaila Issa, who has been an outstanding student in the Computer Science Apprenticeship Program (CAP) – Software Track. As her instructor, I have had the privilege of witnessing her exceptional technical skills, problem-solving abilities, and dedication to learning.

Suhaila is a highly motivated and disciplined individual who consistently demonstrates excellence in programming, software development, and data structures. She is proficient in C++, Python, and Java and has applied her knowledge effectively in areas such as front-end and back-end development, database management, and desktop applications. Her ability to write efficient, modular, and well-documented code showcases her strong understanding of object-oriented programming and software engineering principles.

Suhaila has an impressive GPA of 3.81/4.0 and is ranked first in her Software Track. She is an outstanding student and a dedicated professional, always eager to take on new challenges.

I have no doubt that Suhaila will excel in any academic or professional endeavor she chooses to pursue. She would be a tremendous asset to any organization, research group, or graduate program. I strongly recommend her and am confident that she will make significant contributions to the field of computer science.
